“ God’s mercy exceeds His justice.”
(James 2;13)

Just a few weeks ago we celebrated Easter! As we look back on our Good Friday service we are so grateful that Jesus showed mercy to humanity instead of His wrath. In my devotions today an anonymous writer put it this way...

“ The sense of fairness we have when we are wronged was assumed by God Himself and poured out on the crucified Christ. He declared once for all that justice is His, And not ours.”

What made this past Good Friday so memorable for our family was that all 5 of us were able to show “acts of mercy” to those who attended our church breakfast. We praise God that there were several new families who came out to the service. Kim went from table to table talking to these folks and others. I, along with other men, were busy in the kitchen preparing pancakes, eggs, sausages and roasted potatoes . When it was time to offer coffee and tea, our 3 boys, along with other youth, went around serving those in need.

Since then we have come to welcome 3 “newcomers” to Quebec. Alessandra is a Brazilian lady who came to study English for the next 3-5 months. She lives just a block away from us...cool eh?! Pray that we will be useful in helping her with her English & her adjustment into the Canadian culture.

Patrise, Cedine & their 2 kids, David & Paule-Julie arrived from Cameroon, via Morocco, less then 2 months ago. Praise God that Patrise has already found a job in the computer world! Pray for Cedine as she may have more studies ahead of her as a doctor. Last week we were able to take them around to a number of organisations as they seek to set up home in their 2 bedroom apartment in Verdun. For many months we have been praying that God would bring “new” folks across our paths who we can minister to. This is an answer to prayer!

Last Sunday was an exciting day at our church as a young man in his 30’s gave control of his life over to the authority of Jesus. Dear friends, keep praying as souls ARE being won to Christ one by one right here in Quebec!! Finally, pray for our boys that they will finish well their school year and be able to find summer jobs. May God grant you many opportunities to show “mercy” in your circle of influence!

Your Quebec colleagues, Brian, Kim, Jonathan, Eric & Nicholas
